Nocking around

February 02, 2017 2:15 PM
Photo from Tulane University Archives newwave@tulane.edu

Newcomb College students stand ready to lose their arrows in this undated photo of a physical education class. Newcomb was an early adopter in physical education for women thanks to the Clara Gregory Baer, the first chair of the Physical Education Department, who was considered a pioneer in the physical health movement.