Old Glory flies from French Quarter balconies. Louisiana became a state in 1812, almost a century after the founding of New Orleans.