Early morning light creates a golden glow on the entrance to 2 Audubon Place, also known as the President’s House. Donated to Tulane by the Zemurray family in 1965, the house hosts a variety of university related events.