

Meet the Class of 2021

August 25, 2017 9:45 AM Infographic by Chelsea Christopher cchristopher@tulane.edu

Tulane University's admitted first-year students for fall 2017 represent one of the most diverse and academically qualified in Tulane's history. The admissions team that helped recruit the class specifically looked for students who were committed to academic rigor, regardless of race or demographic. And we are absolutely thrilled that so many of the world's best students have chosen to come to Tulane and embark on a transformative journey that will allow them to become true change-makers for the future. Without further ado, please meet the Class of 2021. Click here to download a pdf of the infographic.

CLASS OF 2021

TULANE UNIVERSITY'S INCOMING FRESHMEN

Tulane University's admitted first-year students for fall 2017 represent one of the most diverse and academically qualified in Tulane's history. The admissions team that helped recruit the class specifically looked for students who were committed to academic rigor, regardless of race or demographic. And we are absolutely thrilled that so many of the world's best students have chosen to come to Tulane and embark on a transformative journey that will allow them to become true change-makers for the future. Without further ado, please meet the Class of 2021.

35,622

STUDENTS APPLIED TO TULANE THIS YEAR

1,897

is the projected size of the class

21%

of students were admitted to Tulane

22%

are students of color

5%

of the class is international

WHERE IN THE WORLD ARE THEY FROM?

China, India, Panama, Ecuador, Turkey, Vietnam, Canada, Germany, Hong Kong, Mexico, South Korea, South Sudan, Taiwan, Thailand, Bolivia, Brazil, Dominican Republic, Guatemala, Lebanon, Myanmar, Nicaragua, Norway, Peru, Russia, Sweden, United Kingdom, Venezuela plus The US Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico are of the countries/territories our international students hail from

29

AND IN THE STATES?

222

from Louisiana

218

from New York

174

from California

141

from Illinois

HOW SMART ARE THEY?

