Tulane's uptown campus is home to state-of-the-art research laboratories that provide access to highly sophisticated core resources to pursue cutting-edge research. Not far away, in downtown New Orleans, is the Tulane University Health Sciences Center, which includes the Tulane Medical Center, the School of Medicine, the School of Public Health and Tropical Medicine, and the School of Social Work. The Tulane National Primate Research Center, located in Covington, Louisiana, is another research hub for the university.
