The Wellness and Health Promotion office at the Tulane Student Health Center is collaborating with Newcomb Student Programs, Housing and Residence Life and Tulane After Dark to bring activities for Sexual Responsibility Week to the uptown campus.

The week focuses on encouraging students to take responsibility in their personal lives by promoting healthy and safe choices. Special events will assist students in addressing sexual health issues while participating in a variety of interactive activities.

Events include a celebrity "gender blender" dance party today (Jan. 27, 9â€“11 p.m. in room 212 of the Lavin-Bernick Center), a Mardi Gras drag queen bingo night on Thursday (Jan. 28, 10 p.m.â€“midnight) in the Qatar Ballroom of the Lavin-Bernick Center), and an educational and provocative event called "The Female Orgasm" on Friday (Jan. 29, 10 p.m.-â€“midnight) in the Qatar Ballroom).

For more information, contact Cordelia Heaney, director of Newcomb Student Programs.
