

Focus on Classroom Technology

February 09, 2010 12:00 PM New Wave staff
newwave@tulane.edu

Representatives of two computer manufacturers and the state of Louisiana Department of Education will be among those on hand today (Feb. 10) for "Teaching Through Technology," sponsored by the Tulane University Teacher Preparation and Certification Program.

The free event will be from noon until 4 p.m. in the Qatar Ballroom, room 212, of the Lavin-Bernick Center.

Representatives from HP will display software aimed at teaching kindergartners through 12th-graders, and their Apple counterparts will demonstrate software, computers and projectors, said Monique Hodges, who is helping to organize the program.

More information is available from Hodges.