Itzhak Lander and Roi Tal, social work professors at Sapir College in Israel which participates in a faculty exchange program with the Tulane University School of Social Work, will discuss the therapeutic value of forgiveness on Thursday, Oct. 8 at Tulane. An hour-long lecture followed by a 30-minute discussion period will begin at 7 p.m. in the Lavin-Bernick Student Center in the Stibbs Conference Room (Rm. 203). The event is free and open to all Tulane students, alumni and the general public.

This inaugural lecture has been made possible through the generosity of the Holley Pavy and John Deblois Supporting Foundation of the Jewish Endowment Foundation of Louisiana. A wine and cheese reception will follow in the adjoining room and balcony area beginning at 8:30 p.m. Lander and Tal will be available for further discussion and conversation at the reception.
