Tulane begins recruiting for Janssen COVID-19 vaccine study

November 03, 2020 1:30 PM
Keith Brannon kbrannon@tulane.edu

Tulane University School of Medicine is recruiting up to 1,920 participants throughout New Orleans to participate in a clinical study of Janssen Pharmaceutical Companies' COVID-19 vaccine.

Tulane will recruit up to 1,920 participants throughout the New Orleans area. There are two trial sites on campus — downtown at the Tulane Clinical Translational Unit, 1440 Canal St., and uptown... in the Claiborne Avenue parking lot near Turchin Stadium. Tulane will partner with LCMC Health to house sites at New Orleans East Hospital and West Jefferson Medical Center.

To sign up for the study, visit vaccine.tulane.edu, email vaccine@tulane.edu or call 833-MY1SHOT.

The ENSEMBLE study is being initiated in collaboration with the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority and the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, part of the National Institutes of Health.

This project has been funded in whole or in part with Federal funds from the Office of the Assistant Secretary for Preparedness and Response, Biomedical Advanced Research and Development Authority, under Other Transaction Agreement HHSO100201700018C.

More information about the trial is available at: www.ensemblestudy.com