

Photos: Survive, Rebuild, Renew

January 01, 2010 12:00 AM

Click to view larger photo with caption.

The footprint of Hurricane Katrina leads off the “Katrina Remembered” exhibit that will be on display through Oct. 10 in the James Lounge of the Lavin-Bernick Center on the uptown campus. (Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano)

Three large display panels feature photos depicting how the storm affected Tulane, while display

Tulane University

cases include the flag that flew over the uptown campus during the storm. (Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano)

Green pins on a map indicate where members of the Tulane community ended up after the storm hit the Gulf Coast. (Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano)

Tulane communications staff members who developed the exhibit are, from left, Zack Weaver, Melinda Viles and Kathryn Hobgood Ray. (Photo by Sally Asher)