

Photos: Making Progress

January 01, 2010 12:00 AM

Click to view larger photo with caption.

Using environmentally friendly construction, the new Residential College II is making progress on the uptown campus on Newcomb Boulevard at Willow Street. (Photos by Sally Asher)

The new student residence will have 81,000 square feet, with 265 beds and 14 different student room configurations. It will include living space for the family of a faculty member, who will serve as professor-in-residence.

Tulane University