

Underground music

January 26, 2017 2:45 PM Photo from Tulane University Archives
newwave@tulane.edu

The Tulanians a capella group sings in the Der Rathskeller in the University Center basement shortly after its completion in March 1966. Built to resemble a German beer hall, "The Rat," as it is commonly called, was the first location on campus to serve beer.