

Throw me somethin', sister

February 23, 2017 1:45 PM Photo from Tulane University Archives
newwave@tulane.edu

An all-female Carnival krewe, presumably either Venus or Iris, parades down Howard Avenue in the late 1950s. While Iris has the distinction of being the first all-woman krewe, it was not the first all-woman parade. The Krewe of Venus rolled for the first time in 1941, and remained the only women's parade until Iris joined them in 1959.