

Jazz king

March 31, 2017 5:00 PM Paula Burch-Celentano
pburch@tulane.edu

Near the Tulane University downtown campus stands a tribute to trumpeter and singer Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong. Credited for bringing the art of jazz to the mainstream, Armstrong is known for such hits as "What a Wonderful World" and "When The Saints Go Marching In."