

Stair masters

September 20, 2017 1:45 PM Photo by Ryan Rivet rivet@tulane.edu

Students on their way to class rush past the watchful gaze of the "Art & Literature" Tiffany windows in Tilton Memorial Hall on the uptown campus. Built in 1902 to house the university library, Tilton Memorial is named for Frederick W. Tilton, a prominent importer of railroad iron who was a member of the Administrators of the University of Louisiana in 1859.