

Stack up

September 21, 2017 1:00 PM Photo from Tulane University Archives
newwave@tulane.edu

A student reads in the stacks of the newly finished Howard-Tilton Memorial Library in the late 1960s. Founded in 1938 when three smaller collections merged, the library was housed in Jones Hall from 1941 until it was moved to its current location in 1968.