Graduates and their families can be spotted across campus posing for photographs. Among them, Sungshan Lin, left, visiting from Taiwan, beams with pride for his son Chinting Lin, second from left, who will graduate with a master's degree in accounting during the 2018 Unified Commencement Ceremony. Meanwhile, Chih Cheng Lee, second from right, laughs as his wife Steena Hsu, right, adjusts the tassel on his tam. The two graduates met and became friends at Tulane.
