

President Fitts receives flu shot at Tulane Living Well Clinic

October 08, 2021 8:30 AM Tulane Today staff
today@tulane.edu

President Mike Fitts receives a flu vaccine shot from Raquel Daniels, medical office assistant at the Tulane Living Well Clinic at University Square. (Photo by Rusty Costanza)

President Mike Fitts received his annual flu shot on Friday at the Living Well Clinic in University Square.

Tulane is providing free on-site flu shots for faculty and staff. Flu vaccines are a covered benefit with no out-of-pocket expense to employees who participate in a Blue Cross Blue Shield of Louisiana (BCBS) medical plan.

Covered Tulane employees may get a flu shot at the Uptown or Downtown locations of the Tulane Living Well Clinic. Employees can schedule an appointment by visiting the website at tulanelivingwell.com.

Uptown Living Well Clinic (University Square): (504) 988-8935

Downtown Living Well Clinic (Hutchinson Building): (504) 988-4325

Flu shots can also be obtained through the Tulane Living Well Occupational Health Clinic; call (504) 988-6224 to make an appointment.

On-campus flu shot events

Flu shots will also be available at scheduled events around the Tulane campuses. Click here to see the schedule.

To make your appointment, register at My.QuestForHealth.com and follow these instructions, or simply show up at one of the flu shot events. Remember to bring a photocopy of your BCBS insurance card and your Splash Card with you to your appointment.