

Seeing blue

September 23, 2022 11:30 AM Tulane Today staff today@tulane.edu

A flowering plumbago plant greets passersby in the early morning outside Cudd Hall. Also known as leadwort, plumbago is native to mild climates worldwide and comes in a variety of colors including white, blue, purple, red and pink. (Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano)