

Mardi Gras Season in Full Swing

February 11, 2010 3:15 AM Ryan Rivet
rrivet@tulane.edu

In New Orleans few things get the blood pumping like Carnival season. As parades begin rolling in the run up to Fat Tuesday, Crescent City residents and visitors are reminded that nothing looks or sounds like a parade ? it's a veritable sensory smorgasbord. For those who can't be here or who haven't yet made it down to the parade route, here's a taste of the Carnival flavor.

Krewe of Sparta rolls on the traditional uptown route in this video produced by Ryan Rivet.