If the graduating class of 2010 has learned anything (and presumably they've learned a lot in the past four years!) it's that every individual can make a difference in his or her community. That idea is contemplated in this third and final video in a series commemorating a simple ? but enduring ? leap of faith.

How the class of 2010 made a real difference in New Orleans is the subject of this third and final video tribute to the graduates produced by Ryan Rivet and members of the Tulane publications staff.
