Students in the School of Social Work are mourning the loss of Kimberly Kelly, a fellow student who died on May 15, and they will honor her memory with a special service on Sunday (June 6) that is open to members of the Tulane community.

The memorial service will take place at 6:30 p.m. at Rogers Memorial Chapel on the Tulane uptown campus. At the service, students and friends will speak about Kelly and her life. There also will be a candlelight vigil outside the chapel after the event.

Kelly, a mother and veterans rights advocate, was killed in an incident at her home in Belle Chasse, La. She was a graduate student in her final months of social work studies at Tulane.
