

Students Agree, "New Orleans Is the Best"

May 11, 2011 2:45 AM New Wave staff
newwave@tulane.edu

Commencement day has arrived and some new Tulane graduates will be making their way from New Orleans to continue their education or begin careers in locations around the country. Members of the New Wave staff caught up with a few graduating students to find out what part of New Orleans would be the hardest to leave behind. View grads' responses in this video.

2011 GRADS

Members of the class of 2011 reflect on what they love most about New Orleans. Ryan Rivet, Alicia Jasmin and Fran Simon contributed to the production of this video.

Special thanks to the participants: grads Emmanuel Michaelides, Eugene Green, Sarah Spencer, Liz Turner, Spencer Wool, Guillermo Cancio, Austin Bloom and Chris Williams.