

Photos: Orientation Fun

June 22, 2011 11:15 AM New Wave staff
newwave@tulane.edu

Summer orientation sessions have been going on all month with incoming first-year students on campus to get their first taste of college life. The two-day sessions allow students and their parents an opportunity to familiarize themselves with Tulane and the city.

After staying in the residence halls and meeting with advisers as part of orientation, students also get to experience a little bit of Big Easy fun. On Monday (June 20) students participated in a campus scavenger hunt, enjoyed the cold sweetness of sno-balls and took a trip to Rock 'n' Bowl. (First two photos are by Sally Asher; all others by Ryan Rivet)

