It's a rare day indeed to have snow in the Crescent City, but on Friday (Dec. 9), the last day of classes for the fall semester, Tulane arranged to make piles of the white stuff for everyone to enjoy.

Thanks to Student Affairs, the School of Science and Engineering and a host of other sponsors, the usual Fridays at the Quad became a snow day. Pelican Ice filled the Newcomb Quad with lots of snow, and snowball fights lasted until it turned to melted mush.
