

Photo: Vintage wheels

July 24, 2012 11:45 AM Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano
pburch@tulane.edu

A variety of classic automobiles made an appearance along Newcomb Place on the Tulane uptown campus on Monday (July 24). The cars were on hand for a film shoot for the historical drama The Butler, which is being shot on campus and around New Orleans.

The film follows the real-life story of Eugene Allen, an African American butler who served eight presidents in the White House during his career.

