

Print shop

August 15, 2013 1:00 AM Courtesy Tulane University Archives
newwave@tulane.edu

Tulane students of long ago operate printing equipment in the University Press-Publications Department. According to information on the back of this vintage photograph, the print shop was run by "students who are here given the opportunity of earning part of their collegiate expenses."