

How to create a hurricane plan

August 30, 2013 11:00 AM Alicia Duplessis Jasmin
aduples@tulane.edu

This infographic will get you started on the path to creating a hurricane plan for your family. Click the image to download a pdf that includes links to important websites about emergency preparedness at Tulane University. (Infographic by Tracey Belina)

6 STEPS TOWARD A GOOD HURRICANE PLAN

- 1. READ THE GUIDE
The Tulane University Hurricane Guide for Students is available on the university's emergency management website.
- 2. IDENTIFY YOUR NEAREST RELATIVE
If you live on campus, make plans to travel to a family friend or relative within 100 miles of New Orleans. Be sure that all parties have up-to-date contact information.
- 3. CHECK THE NEWS
Visit the emergency website frequently for information about campus closure, or call the AlertLine, 504-862-8080 or 877-862-8080.
- 4. BE STORM SMART
Know the difference between a tropical storm and a hurricane. When a storm's winds become greater than 39 mph it is considered a tropical storm. If that storm continues to grow and reaches wind speeds over 74 mph, it's then a hurricane.
- 5. KNOW YOUR PACKING ESSENTIALS
It's a good idea to have a list prepared with the most important items you'll need, such as: prescription medication, I.D. card, credit card and your passport.
- 6. ASSEMBLE A HURRICANE KIT
A battery-operated radio and a flashlight are must-haves. A list of more suggestions is available on the employee and student emergency planning website.