Tulane University students ham it up for an ESPN camera outside Yulman Stadium prior to the Green Wave football game against the Cincinnati Bearcats on Friday evening (Oct. 31). It was the first Tulane football game played on a Halloween night on the uptown campus since 1964.

Derrick Hammond sells fan gear outside Yulman Stadium. Sweatshirts were a popular item as many fans were not prepared for the windy night.

Surrounded by the Cincinnati defense, freshman wide receiver Teddy Veal rushes towards the goal line. Veal ran a career-high 73 yards with seven catches.

A Beetlejuice/Tulane fan was one of many dressed in the Halloween spirit.
