

Twist and shout

November 17, 2014 1:30 AM Photos by Ryan Rivet
rrivet@tulane.edu

Lights and motion create a dazzling display in the night sky as revelers take flight on the Yo-Yo ride on the Lavin-Bernick Center Quad, which was transformed into a carnival on Friday night (Nov. 14) for homecoming weekend. Students, alumni, faculty and friends enjoyed rides, a pep rally and music on the Tulane University uptown campus.

Students let out a laugh while being spun on the Sizzler.

The carnival rides provide a hair-raising experience.

Members of the Tulane University Marching Band get down during the homecoming pep rally.

In spite of the cold, the cheerleaders get the crowd excited.

Walter Wolfman Washington, right, rocks the LBC Quad as he plays with the horns section of the Dirty Dozen Brass Band.

Smoke and light envelop Kirk Joseph, the sousaphone player for the Dirty Dozen Brass Band.

Fireworks shoot off the roof of the Lavin-Bernick Center to close out the festivities.