

Aficionado

March 02, 2015 1:30 AM Ryan Rivet
rrivet@tulane.edu

Coco Zhang, a sophomore at Tulane University majoring in art history, takes time between classes to view the Newcomb Art Gallery exhibit featuring the work of Edgar Degas. The exhibition, "Edgar Degas: The Private Impressionist," runs until May 24 and features drawings, prints and photographs by and relating to Degas. The show also features works by friends and contemporaries of the artist, including Mary Cassatt, Paul Cézanne, Jean-Léon Gérôme, Jean-Auguste-Dominique Ingres, Gustave Moreau, Alfred Stevens and Henri de Toulouse-Lautrec.