

Transportation hub

June 04, 2015 2:00 AM Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano
pburch@tulane.edu

Streetcars and busses pass directly in front of the Tulane School of Social Work building in downtown New Orleans. The Loyola Avenue streetcar line, which opened in 2013, is the newest in the system and runs from the Union Passenger Terminal to the Mississippi River. On weekends, the cars roll all the way to Esplanade Avenue.