

The Green Room: The southeast "super region"

June 18, 2015 10:00 AM Ryan Rivet
rrivet@tulane.edu

The concept of a “super region” encompassing Louisiana's two largest metro areas ? New Orleans and Baton Rouge ? has been percolating for the past few years. New Wave decided to take a look at the concept, to figure out if it's working from a business perspective and whether or not it fits the criteria of a region from a geographical one. Hear the podcast.