

Way back when

March 03, 2016 2:15 PM Photo courtesy Tulane University Archives
newwave@tulane.edu

Constructed in 1923, Dinwiddie Hall was originally called the Science Building. In 1928, an annex was added to the northern side of the building to make it as it appears in this photograph, shot on April 11, 1930, on the Tulane University uptown campus. In 1936, the building was renamed to honor Albert Bledsoe Dinwiddie (1918-1935), the sixth president of Tulane.