

Sand blast

March 21, 2016 3:00 PM Photo by Parker Waters
newwave@tulane.edu

Sand flies at the Pelican Classic hosted by the Tulane beach volleyball team at the White Sands Volleyball Club in Metairie, Louisiana, on Saturday (March 19). The Green Wave won three of the four matches they played over the weekend, sweeping the final two contests against the University of New Orleans and Spring Hill College. The team will face off against UCLA on Wednesday (March 23) in the first round of a tournament hosted by Florida Atlantic University in Pompano Beach, Florida.