

Craw examination

July 20, 2016 4:15 PM Paula Burch-Celentano

pburch@tulane.edu

5042892107

Eric Bowie, left, gently examines the parts a crawfish as Quinlan Carroll looks on. Mudbug dissection is a requirement in the Diversity of Life course held each summer in the Science and Engineering complex on Tulane's uptown campus.