Hortensia Calvo, far left, the Doris Stone Director of the Latin American Library, discusses historical connections between New Orleans and Latin America with visitors, left to right, Ashley Pradel, Joseph Rubini and his son David Rubini during the Latin American Library's 12th annual open house on Friday (Sept. 23) at the Howard Tilton Memorial Library. Guests were treated to refreshments while perusing the yearly book sale, an exhibit of new acquisitions and a gallery talk by visiting Colombian documentary photographer Viki Ospina.
